FORMAL OPENING OF NEW HOTEL IS MADE A BRILLIANT SOCIAL AFFAIR

NEW YORK had nothing on El Paso socially on Thanksgiving day. The opening of the new Paso del Norte hotel was made a social event that will go down in El Paso's history as one of the principal affairs of the city. The supper scene in the evening was one of brilliancy and color that could not have been outdone at Sector's or Martin's in New York. The women in evening clothes, the men in the formal attire, the diners set the custom for dinner at the new hotel. El Paso has seen a somewhat careless of dinner customs in the past when dining in public, but with the surroundings such as the new hotel offers, there is every inspiration for making the dinner a formal affair and El Pasoans showed last night that they appreciate the opportunity and like the custom.

Every table in the great institution was engaged for the evening meal, including the private dining rooms, and while the scene would have rivaled that of any of the country's largest cities, the service, too, compared very favorably with the great metropolitan restaurants. The crowd was so large that no attempt was made to serve à la carte, but manager Geo. Benton and assistant Louis Thoenner and corps of waiters prepared a special dinner that set a standard for the new hotel which would be hard to surpass anywhere.

A caterer, Mr. Thoenner, who has direct supervision of the culinary department, established himself in the hearts of his guests with the very first meal he served.

The dining rooms were decorated in vines of smilax and potted palms. The hotel orchestra played throughout the evening. In the dining room during the meal and upstairs in the ballroom after the meal, the orchestra played. The hotel was open for Thanksgiving, but manager Benton rushed work out of the hotel and the dance was a surprise on his part for the directors and guests.

The scene of conviviality and pleasure during dinner was made much more beautiful by the handsome gowns of the women. The El Paso directors discussed the scene enthusiastically and the directors and promoters of the handsome new hotel were often toasted: manager Benton, when congratulated on the splendid success of the opening of the new hotel, modestly gave credit to Alfons von der Marren, head chef, Carl Beck, maître d'hotel, and R. E. Scott, superintendent of the wine service. Mr. Benton and Mr. Thoenner were everywhere throughout the evening looking after the pleasure and comfort of their guests. They distributed as favors to the diners, silver hand mirrors for the women and watch fobs for the men.

The dance following the dinner was an extremely pleasant social affair. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Tooley, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McNary, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Primm, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Loomis, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Happer, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weddings

Thursday afternoon, Thanksgiving day, at 4 o'clock, in the parlors of Hotel McCoy, Mrs. Carmen Jennings and Valmore Courchesne were married by Rev. Charles L. Overstreet. Only members of the families were present and a few intimate friends. The parlors of the hotel were elaborately decorated in palms and smilax. The bride, who is tall and stately, wore a French import gown of white satin, trimmed in real lace and silver.

She wore a white albert in her hair and carried a large shower bouquet of lilacs, blue valley and blue carnations. Francis L. Moore played the wedding march from Tannhauser, and the bride sang "Today," before the service was read.

Little Madeline Courchesne, cousin of the groom, attended the bride as flower girl and was very sweet as she entered, holding a large lily in which the wedding ring was hidden. She wore a beautiful white lingerie dress over pale blue.

The groom attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a handsome gown of black point lace over lavender.

The groom is in business with his uncle at the Southwestern Portland Cement company, and the bride is well known to a large circle of friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Courchesne went immediately to their home at Courchesne, Tex., where they will be at home to their friends.

Will G. Armstrong and Madge E. Hubbard were married on Tuesday, Nov. 25, at 4 o'clock, at the parlors of Trinity Methodist church. Rev. C. Wesley Webber performed the ceremony.

Mr. E. E. Jackson attended the bride and W. E. Jackson attended the groom. The bride wore a gown of white chiffon and the groom wore a tuxedo. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. O'Shea, Mr. and Mrs. E. Washburn, Charles Hubbard, T. M. Pugh, Gerald Hubbard. The bride has lived in El Paso for five years and is well known to a large circle of friends in this city.

The happy couple left for New York immediately and will be at home at Teressa, N. Y., where the groom holds a responsible position with the Rio Tinto Copper company. Miss Lane is the daughter of a prominent architect of Chihuahua.

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, at the parlors of the First Presbyterian church, W. A. Burris and Miss Margaret Ewalt were married by Rev. Charles L. Overstreet. Messrs. A. Durham accompanied the bride at the wedding. Mr. Burris is an employee of the S. P. railroad.

Miss Lena Mitchell and William Kelly were married on Tuesday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of the bride at 1809 East Rio Grande street. Rev. Charles L. Overstreet performed the ceremony. Members of the family were present. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly left immediately for California and will be at home in Waco, Tex.

School Notes

At the El Paso School for Girls the Thanksgiving play was in two parts: first, an argument between three little ghosts of Plymouth Rock Puritan maid and three ultra modern school girls as to what makes life worth living; second, scenes from Hiawatha, with Indian setting and costuming. If children be given half a chance they make excellent little actors, and the girls who took part in these little plays were jolly, natural and spirited in their speaking and acting. The Hiawatha scenes make up a little "play" first, the sowing of corn; then Hiawatha weaving a net to catch the ravens; Minnehaha pronounces a spell upon all creatures that may harm the fields, including the mighty caterpillar; the ravens come and their king is killed. Then the harvest moon, the dance of the corn husking, and finally the Thanksgiving for the bounteous harvest. It was all very fine, very pretty, very well done, and had a lovely spirit of school life, of children playing, and in their play using immortal poetry as fitting remembrance of real things. Thanksgiving and gentle discipline of children along the line of their greatest supplies.

Baking Powder Biscuits
Light as a Feather

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Baking Powder Biscuits made by this recipe are so far ahead of ordinary baking powder biscuits that, if once tried, you will never use any other recipe. Try it the next time you run short of bread. Save this recipe.

Three cups flour; 1/4 to 1/2 cup shortening; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; about 1 cup milk or water; 1 teaspoonful salt.

Sift three times, the flour, salt and baking powder. Work into the flour the shortening, using lard or butter for shortening. Then mix to a very soft dough with the milk. The softer the biscuit enters the oven, the lighter it comes out. Never knead baking powder biscuits; press the dough into shape and roll lightly. Cut in small shapes and bake on a sheet or very shallow pan in a hot oven. In placing biscuits in the pans place well apart, not allowing edges to touch. Small biscuits are better than large ones. Large biscuits do not have the proper amount of time to raise and bake.

Have you seen the new K C Cook's Book? Brimful of appetizing recipes that simply must be successful every time if the few simple directions are carefully followed. You would gladly pay 25 cents for this valuable book, yet we are glad to give you a receipt of the colored recipe card in every 25-cent tin of K C Baking Powder. Jacobs Bros., Co., Chicago. Small tins do not have Cook's Book certificates.

TUBERCULAR GERMS

flourish in the most unexpected places and quickly attack a body weakened from colds or general debility, but if the lungs are fortified with SCOTT'S EMULSION their progress can be prevented and often overcome. SCOTT'S EMULSION is used in tuberculosis camps because its highly concentrated nourishment builds strength and resistive-power faster than disease destroys. It assimilates without taxing digestion, and contains no alcohol. Absolutely nothing equals SCOTT'S EMULSION to strengthen the lungs and drive out colds and coughs.
